

Please read this document regarding our notice of closure

Leafline has been creating teaching and learning materials for many years and we are very grateful to all the schools around the country who have trusted and used our resources. There has been much positive feedback over the years and we hope that we have supported you all whenever it was required.

However, due to a change in personal circumstances of one of the Leafline partners, we feel that we are now unable to provide the quantity and quality of new resources that schools, staff and pupils deserve. Existing customers will know how important that is to the ethos of Leafline.

Therefore, with immediate effect, we will not be taking any new orders except those already placed with us or generated as part of an approval copy in school.

We will continue, as promised, to produce the 2008 updates and these will still be available for download from our website which will remain active until the end of November 2008.

In summary:

- Leafline is to stop creating new resources and trading with immediate effect
- Existing schools may still download the updates until the end of November 2008
- Orders already placed or received via an existing approval copy will be honoured
- The Leafline website will cease at the end of November 2008
- Any correspondence should be made via our office e-mail info@leafline.net

As you may appreciate this has been a very difficult decision for us to make and we would like to thank all the staff who we have worked with over the many years for their loyalty and who we may hope to see at future educational events.

Our apologies for the short notice.

Regards

Martin & Kim
